MEET OUR INSTRUCTORS

Xavier Z
Academies Instructor

"Xavier is a senior at Harvard College majoring in Applied Mathematics with a focus in Engineering. She grew up in a family of academics and is passionate about pursuing a career in academia of her own. On campus, she has worked for the Harvard Physics Laboratory, and for the past three summers, she has interned at Columbia University, Quest Medical Inc., and Deloitte in New York, Dallas, and Arlington respectively. She plans on going to graduate school next Fall. Lastly, for fun, she enjoys reading, exercising, and exploring other cultures and languages; she is currently taking (and loving) an elementary Arabic language class!"

Daniel is a Senior studying Applied Math and Economics with a language citation in Chinese. He is originally from Connecticut, USA, and enjoys running and playing the piano in his spare time.

His extracurriculars at Harvard have included the Harvard College Consulting Group, where he has led multiple case teams to consult for companies in different industries, and serving as Managing Director of Campus Insights—a Gen Z and Millennial user and market research firm. This summer, he worked at a private-equity-backed insurance fund doing derivatives trading as a quantitative analyst. As an aside, he loves Shake Shack and can often be found either there or at Dunkin Donuts between classes in Cambridge.

STUDENT TESTIMONIALS

The background of the entire page is a photograph of a bronze statue of a man in 18th-century attire, sitting and holding a book. Behind the statue, several red balloons are visible. The image is slightly faded to allow text to be read clearly.

"The instructors are amazing, honestly one of the best parts of the program!! So easy to talk to, and so willing to help!"

"It was an incredible experience... if that is what class is like in HBS everyday, I would want to attend!"

"Business has always intrigued me but after taking this course I feel more confident that this is what I want to do in the future."
